

Research Fellowship Program

Job Description

AQUISIS is a strategy advisory boutique with 2 core pillars of client service: Commercial advice for investors, and strategy advice for SME owners. Both are built on merging the investor mindset with the commercial toolkit of a management consultant. The underlying core principle is that of identifying sources of value and showing ways to generate value.

AQUISIS provides the opportunity for exceptional talents to join as a Research Fellow in Economics. The Fellow will:

- Proactively drive the development of thought leadership pieces on economic matters (incl. macroeconomic, microeconomic, business strategy), seeing them through from ideation to publishing
- When necessary, support AQUISIS' day-to-day consulting business. These tasks will depend on the individual's talents and may be more administrative. This may for example include working on client presentations, or reports, conducting research, or working within existing Excel models
- Support with outreach to prospective clients, both inside and outside Italy. High-performing talent can expect to also work directly with clients

Applicants should be aware that AQUISIS is young and small. Having served clients predominantly in Germany and the UK, AQUISIS is expanding into Italy. The successful applicant will work directly with the Partner on projects in Italy and Europe, but is also expected to get their "hands dirty" in scaling up the Italian business. In addition to providing professional development opportunities, the Fellowship is also the pathway into Analyst positions.

REQUIREMENTS

The successful Fellow will have the following characteristics:

- Master's degree or higher with above average grades at a recognized academic institution in Economics. Coursework and theses should testament to a rigorous, theory-driven academic journey
- Impeccable integrity
- Highest commitment to excellence, and intrinsic motivation to solve complex issues conceptually
- Strong analytic reasoning, problem-solving, and quantitative skills
- Proficiency in Excel a must, advanced PowerPoint-skills a strong plus
- Fluency in English is a must, as well as fluency in either Italian, German, or French. An additional language is considered a strong plus
- Relevant prior internship experience
- Right to work in Italy

WHAT AQUISIS OFFERS

- On the job training in consulting methods, relevant theory, and communication skills
- Above market salary depending on qualification/experience
- Generally smart working, but at least a full day per month in the office in Tuscany. Occasional travel within Italy and Europe cannot be excluded
- Fixed term contract, potential for renewal thereafter.

Please send your CV and cover letter via email